A man shall not be established by wickedness. A liquor-seller builds a fine house on the bodies and souls of men. A gambler wears a blazing diamond pin. The sharp boy cheats his parents or employer. He begs off to see his sick mother, and goes to the circus. He cheats in school examinations. He gets all he can out of a friend, and has no further use for him. He tells lies to cover up his misdeeds. Do these things pay? Certainly not, in the long run. The wicked are snared in their own devices. Teach your boys and girls that sin never pays, but it is always paid, for God is just. We never can deceive God, nor run away from him. A Good Woman (v. 4).-- When the pastor talks of the success of his church,...
