Excerpt: . . . calling her thoughts to her own patient whom she had left so long. She quickened her tremulous steps as Dr Rider disappeared in the darkness; but almost before she had got beyond the last echoes of the Salem meeting, that shadow of darker woe and misery than any the poor mother wist of, was again by Mrs Vincents side. CHAPTER XXXVII. You are not able to walk so fast, said Mrs Hilyard, coming up to the widow as she crossed over to the darker side of Grove Street, just where the house of the Miss Hemmings turned its lighted staircase-window to the street; and it will not harm you to let me speak to you. Once you offered me your hand, and would have gone with me. It is a long long time ago-- ages since--but remember it. I do not come after you...
