Brand New Book  Print on Demand .This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1905 edition. Excerpt: . The student should be made to study and write concerning the events, influences etc. that might have preceded the first act to produce such consequences as are discovered in this play. The home, city, and national influences that might have been effective in the early days of Caesar or of any other prominent character in this play may be profitably studied and made the subject of essays. The study of these characters, the analysis of their acts and their results will call for the exercise of the best judgment and for the use of good reasoning powers. The text for readings will supply material for essays. The texts for study call for close instruction in the study of literature, and much study of related history. A supplementary course in the history of English and American literature may be taken in the third or fourth year by students not taking a four years course in English and by students preparing for colleges calling for such a course. Thomas Ba1ley Lovell, Chairman, Niagara Falls High School Prof. James Morgan Hart, Cornell University Prof. Bra1nerd Kellogg, Polytechnic, Brooklyn Pr1n. Arthur Marv1n, Schenectady High School Mr Marvin objects to special features of the above report. Batavia N. V., Sep. 16, 1904 My dear Doctor Lovell: I have your esteemed favor of yesterday. I regret to say that my duty to educational liberty prevents me from allowing my name to be attached to a report that recommends the...
